

PRESIDENT TAFT GOES THROUGH

His Special Train Laid at Depot 10 Minutes Early
This Morning.

ON WAY TO MORGANTOWN, W. VA.

His Passing Occasioned Little Interest
Because the Hour of Arrival—No
Efforts Made to Break Speed
Records By B. & O.

The President of the United States passed through Connellsville quite unobtrusively this morning. His passing excited no public interest. The only spectators at the depot when the special train pulled in at 2:05 A. M. were a number of railroad men preparing to go out on their runs. The railroad officials spoke lower yet, and the only spectators at the depot when the special train pulled in at 2:05 A. M. were a number of railroad men preparing to go out on their runs.

There was no demonstration at the depot and Presidential stumblers were not disturbed. Those who gathered conversed quietly among themselves. The railroad officials spoke lower yet, and the only spectators at the depot when the special train pulled in at 2:05 A. M. were a number of railroad men preparing to go out on their runs.

Every precaution was taken to prevent mishaps. "Safety the first consideration," the motto of the B. & O. Frick Coke Company, was the watchword for these early morning hours. Promptly at 1:30 o'clock traffic in the yards was at a standstill. Not a wheel turned and along the river front there was a silence not known in many years.

The special was expected first about 1:30 and a quiet air of expectancy was apparent, save at the telegraph office, where it was ascertained the train would be built an hour behind the original schedule. In the dispatcher's office ears hovered over the Pittsburgh division train wire and as the special, running as the second section of No. 10, passed tower after tower from Pittsburgh to Connellsville its progress was unobtrusive.

The "Sheepskin" blazed himself getting his division in excellent shape for the run. Division Operator H. B. Pignam, and Night Dispatcher Walter Halnes were in charge of the office. When word passed that the special had passed Broad Ford and the Overlook distillery, the car inspectors lighted their torches and prepared to make a careful inspection of journal boxes and other appurtenances to the running gear of the heavy cars. They lost not a moment after the train arrived. Promptly at 2:05, Engineer George Reed brought the No. 1011 to a standstill at the water tower. Conductor C. B. Lane alighted and made his way to the telegraph office to receive his orders. From Connellsville the train ran as the second section to No. 1.

Superintendent C. B. Corauck and Trainmaster C. F. Angell of the Pittsburgh division were among the first to alight. They left the train at this point after a successful run over their division. District Passenger Agent S. B. Hodges of Washington was in charge of the train. He came down on the platform in company with the Washington manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company. This party met Superintendent C. L. French beside the first Pullman and talked over the plans for handling the train at Morgantown.

"We want the train sidetracked at an isolated spot when we get to Morgantown," said Mr. Hodges. With pardonable pride Superintendent French responded that such was the arrangement already made. The Western Union's representative was anxious about the telegraph arrangements, in order to get Mr. Taft's speech off early. He, too, was assured that the matter would be taken care of properly. The men continued to chat until the train left, nine minutes later.

When the 1011 came to a standstill Road Foreman of Engines T. E. Miller was at the water tower. He climbed aboard and made the trip to Morgantown in the cab. Captain E. S. Russell of the Baltimore & Ohio police force chose the baggage car, where several Secret Service men were waiting away the time. Chief Lineman T. S. Barker, with a coil of wire and climbing along across his shoulder, also went aboard, prepared to make the necessary connections at Morgantown to handle the telegraphic business. But there was no sign of the President. His private car, the Ideal, was brightly lighted but the shades were drawn save in the kitchen, where a negro cook was busy even at the unusual hour brushing his pans and skillets. There were lights in the Cammack, the other Pullman, but no sign of life about, save among the railroad officials.

Those who had adhered along the dark, dank river front hardly anticipated a glimpse of the President. They realized it unreasonable to expect the President's appearance with the famous Taft smile wreathed in a night cap and the familiar Taft aviator cap with its pompadour. The President might be awake, and possibly push aside the curtains for a peering glimpse of the Center of the Coke station, which just then presented only a view of the Riverview Hotel's brightly lighted dining room.

In the forward car there was a gleam of light as one of the curtains was pushed aside. There was a general movement in that direction and then expressions of chagrin. It was only a negro porter taking a glance along the platform, looking for all the world like an advertisement of Cream of Wheat. Conductor Lane received his orders and emerged from the telegraph office. Superintendent French and his group on the platform moved towards the forward Pullman and boarded it. Lanterns flashed, Engineer Reed pulled the throttle and an instant later the red tail lights were all that could be seen, save the reflection from the locomotive and the beguiling and prospering from a heated coal into the yawning maw of the boiler.

The baggage car, a New York Central Liner car No. 2773, was not overladen with cargo. From the partly opened door all that could be seen was a square box bearing the legend: "Cod Liver Oil." The special passed, traffic was resumed on the division and the Presidential visit was over. The train arrived at Morgantown at 3:50.

The local police department and the police of surrounding towns have been notified of the disappearance of two local school girls who have been, strangely missing since last Saturday afternoon. The missing girls are Marie Rist, aged 15 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rist of Meadow alley, and Katherine Boyd, aged 15, a daughter of Mrs. Boyd, also of town. The Boyd girl's mother is a widow and also resides in Connellsville. The girls attended school on Friday afternoon and since Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock nothing has been heard of them. They attended the Fourth ward school and are members of the seventh grade.

Police Looking for Two Young Girls

Both girls are about five feet in height, have black hair and blue eyes. They wear bangs and were without hats when last seen. The Rist girl wore a plaid dress, a long light coat and had brown ribbons on her hair. The Boyd girl wore a black waist and grey skirt. The parents of the Rist girl are greatly distressed over her disappearance. This morning the father stated that wherever his daughter is located it is his desire that she be placed under arrest and that the parties locating the girl should notify him at once. The Boyd girl figured in an arrest made in the West Side some time ago and spends most of her time on the street. She has been intimate with the Rist girl for nearly a year and it seems as if the parents of the Rist girl were unable to break up the friendship.

Mr. Rist is of the opinion that after leaving Connellsville the girls went to Mt. Pleasant. Every effort possible is being made to locate them. Superintendent C. B. Corauck and Trainmaster C. F. Angell of the Pittsburgh division were among the first to alight. They left the train at this point after a successful run over their division. District Passenger Agent S. B. Hodges of Washington was in charge of the train. He came down on the platform in company with the Washington manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company. This party met Superintendent C. L. Foolish Charges by Democratic Campaign Managers;
Where Workhouse and County Home Idea Originated.

The Uniontown Genius, that ancient and always able exponent of Fayette county Democracy's aims and aspirations, is sometimes startling in its utterances even if they are pure and simple fiction.

A striking example was the article printed last Friday, embellished with horse bill headlines, "Exposure of Scheme for Millions in Graft." The scheme for making millions in graft was the establishment of a County Work House, Insane Asylum, County Home, Children's Home and an addition to the Court House, and IT WAS CHARGED THAT THIS WAS A SCHEME OF THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY ADMINISTRATION HATCHED WITH A VIEW TO ROBBING THE TAXPAYERS THROUGH THE FARMING OF CONTRACTS AND THE ACQUISITION OF THE UNSUBSIDIZED OF A LOT OF FAT SALARIES.

We fear that Chairman Gray and his able assistants in this campaign are more eager in the pursuit of their present purpose than mindful of the history of the past. The proposition to construct and maintain these public buildings and improvements came from Judge Umbel and was approved by two Grand Juries. IT CAME FROM A DEMOCRATIC SOURCE AND WAS SANCTIONED BY A NON-PARTISAN REPRESENTATIVE BODY OF TAXPAYERS. IT DID NOT EMANATE FROM REPUBLICAN SOURCES AND HAS NOT YET RECEIVED THE SANCTION OF THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY OFFICIALS. It is, in short, a Democratic measure being held up by Republican influences.

The Courier is free to say that the general plan has its cordial approval, and we have said so; but IT IS THE HEIGHT OF IMPUDENCE AND FOLLY TO ATTEMPT TO PLACE THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THESE PLANS UPON THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND CHARGE THEM WITH HAVING FORMULATED THEM WITH A VIEW TO ROBBING THE TAXPAYERS.

If the Democratic campaign managers think they can deceive the voters by any such cheap, stale, unreasonable and unprofitable tricks as these they utterly fail to appreciate the intelligence of the people.

HALLOWE'EN PARADE IS BEST EVER HELD

Fully 1,200 in Line and Most of Them are School Children.

SCOTSDALE TURNED OUT WELL

"Spirit of '76" Boys Pulled Down One of the Two $10 Prizes and Deserved
It—Gibson School Went First Honors Strong.

The Halloween parade last night was the best ever held in this city. That is the consensus of opinion among the spectators. More than 1,200 were in line, a thousand of them school children from six years up. The costumes were varied and some of it decidedly original. Following the parade the school children received their usual treat of doughnuts and apples at the Y. M. C. A. building, returning home tired but happy.

The parade was delayed half an hour by the Tenth Regiment Band. The West Side Band also caused a slight delay by being behind schedule in escorting the West Side schools to the point of mobilization on the South Side. The children, most of whom were there just a bit ahead of time, were made restless by the delay but this was forgotten in the subsequent tramp along the muddy, slimy streets, made unpleasantly dirty by recent rains. Some of the downtown thoroughfares had been washed yesterday afternoon and this remedied conditions to a certain extent.

Following the parade the prize awards were announced and those who have not received their prize money may have it by applying to Chairman F. R. Ormiston of the prize committee. The judges' report incognito and incognito. The winners were:

Best Calliope band—"Spirit of '76," Scottdale, $10.
Best Consumed Band; Tenth Regiment, $10.
Best uniformed organization, West Side firemen, $5.
Best costumed pair, Sam Stillwagon and Dave Long, $5.
Most original makeup, "Old Woman and Baby," Tom Evans, $5.
Best school turnout under grade 7, Room No. 5, Gibson, $5.
Best slogan, "Banner," "Moody Tenth," Third ward school, $5.
Best clown, boy had carrier, identity unknown, $5.
Best school turnout over grade 7, Room No. 1, Fourth ward, $5.

The verdict of the judges will be generally approved by popular opinion although among the spectators, "Alexander's Rag Time Band," by the High School boys, made a distinctive hit. There were too many varied costumes and makeups to mention individuals. The school kids displayed some splendid examples of good taste and originality. Practically all the youngsters had one kind of costume or another.

bridge, where mud was thick, but the percentage that dropped out proved small.

There was an abundance of red fire this year. It was distributed along the line of march by Chairman H. O. Kenney of the red fire committee, assisted by Superintendent S. P. Aabe and Vice Principal B. B. Smith of High School. There was more red fire in the parade this year than last year and in all 2,000 sticks were distributed. The youngsters who failed to get a stick of red fire were in the minority. The first distribution was made on the South Side after which the wagon loaded by Joseph T. Johnston, was driven down and a second hand-out made at the Library. The third and final distribution took place at the West Penn building room. The aides today are nursing burned and blistered hands as the result of attempting to distribute several sticks of burning red fire once. The youngsters escaped without serious injury.

At the Y. M. C. A. building there was a terrific crash for a time and it took desperate efforts on the part of the aides to prevent some of the smaller children from being crushed. Physical Director C. J. Kilbourne and his assistants handled the youngsters to the best of their ability.

The line was off in town. It was a free-for-all night. More dressed in fancy and girls decked themselves in male attire. At times the demonstration became boisterous but there was no serious trouble. Some of the men who dressed as women made excellent impersonations. Likewise did some of the girls look like Broadway swells. One fellow was so well disguised that he was refused a drink at one of the local bars. On the other hand it is whispered that two girls, dressed as men, ordered a whiskey and a beer, and got away with it.

The West Penn brought hundreds of people into town. Two double headers took care of the Scottdale delegation, a double header was run from Dunbar and 40 minute service went into effect on the Leisnering division.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS ON HALLOWE'EN EVE.

Dance at Markell Hall a
Prettily Appointed Function.

GUESTS FROM OUT OF TOWN

Miss Mary O'Hara Hostess for Party of Merry-makers—Cochran Hall, at Dawson the Scene of Large and Enjoyable Dance.

While the streets were thronged with merry-makers and fun and gaiety reigned supreme last evening, many homes were the scene of Halloween parties. On account of the general celebration the number of social events were not as large as previous years but were of a more elaborate nature. Crowds of young people assembled at the homes of their friends and spent the evening in dimly lighted rooms, where weird ghost stories were told and young girls dressed as gypsy fortune tellers foretold the future of the guests.

The leading social event of the evening was a Halloween dance held at Markell hall. The dance was the first of a series planned by members of the single and young married women of the social set and was given under the committee of Mrs. Henry P. Snyder, Mrs. William J. Bailey, Mrs. Leroy Guldord, Mrs. Ralph Kell Long, Miss Ruth and Helen Norris, Miss Jean R. Snyder, Miss Emma Kate Dull, Miss Josephine Porter, and Miss Gertrude Madison. The dance was a feet in all its appointments, got the smallest detail, being overlooked by the committee in charge. Sparkling gowned ladies and elaborate decorations, suggestive of Halloween, presented a scene of great beauty. The pleasure of a dance depends largely on the music and last night Kiefer's orchestra furnished music and was at its best. The orchestra was composed of Mr. Kiefer, B. O. Clabaugh and the pianist, Mrs. L. M. Gillette. The local and visiting guests pronounced the orchestra as the best they had ever heard and last night it competed with any orchestra in this section. The hall was transformed into a bower of beauty, and during the dance was dimly lighted with jack-o'-lanterns and a large moon face. The curtains were festooned with beautifully tinted autumn leaves, blending into a rich shade of red, while concealing an arrangement of corn fodder forming a screen effect.

An original effect was introduced by a clever arrangement of orange and black hanging and autumn leaves on the pillars, the autumn leaves were arranged from the ceiling to the center of the pillars. The small electric lights around the entire hall were capped with jack-o'-lanterns, while placed here and there were large pumpkins grotesquely carved. The chandelier was festooned with autumn leaves and the lights were softened with yellow shades. Punch was served through out the evening from a large pumpkin face. The programs were adorned with witches and black cats. At 9 o'clock the grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Snyder, took place. Following that dancing was general and was kept up until 1 o'clock this morning. A buffet luncheon was served. Among the out of town guests present were Miss Catherine Johnson of Peoria, Ill., the house guest of Mrs. T. B. Donnel; J. Clarence Lane of Ohio, Miss Matilda Cook of Pittsburgh, the guest of Miss Mary Dick; Miss Maxine Richardson and Miss Florence Klein of Pittsburgh, the guests of Misses Imogene and Catherine Porter, E. Raymond Doud of Scranton, Pa., James Smith and Harry McDonald of Dawson; J. R. Palmer, Mrs. Gardner and James Watt of Pittsburgh. About 35 couples were present. The second of the series will be held in Markell hall Friday evening, December 1.

Miss Mary O'Hara was hostess at a large and beautifully arranged Halloween party last evening at her home on Tenth street. The decorations consisted of corn fodder, jack-o'-lanterns, and autumn leaves, which were artistically arranged in all the rooms. The evening was spent at various Halloween amusements, including telling fortunes, bobbing for apples, etc. About 11:30 o'clock the guests assembled in the dining room where a well appointed Halloween luncheon was served from small tables at which covers were laid for four. Music was an enjoyable feature of the evening. The candlesticks were capped with yellow shades as were the chandeliers. The out of town guests were Dick and Chauncey Hagader, J. Rockwell, Frank Foster of Uniontown, Frank Baker of Washington, D. C., and James Dick of Pittsburgh.

About 25 guests were present at a very delightful party at which Miss Hattie Long was hostess last evening at her home on South Prospect street. All the appointments were in keeping with Halloween and a very enjoyable evening was spent in Halloween games. The rooms were dimly lighted with jack-o'-lanterns and pumpkin faces. Autumn leaves were greatly in evidence. The different rooms presented a very pretty forest scene. At a late hour a Halloween supper was served.

Joseph Dixon was hostess at a handsomely arranged 5 o'clock cocktail party at her home on South Prospect street. All the appointments were in keeping with Halloween and a very enjoyable evening was spent in Halloween games. The rooms were dimly lighted with jack-o'-lanterns and pumpkin faces. MRS. JOHN BECK
A VICTIM OF ACID

Fiend, Either Man or Woman,
Is Pursuing Scottdale Woman.

ATTACKED ON MONDAY NIGHT

Carbolic Acid Was Thrown in Her Face Inflicting Painful Burns—Another Attempt Also Made to Burn
the Beck Home.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Nov. 1.—Mrs. John Beck, wife of the engineer of the Uniontown Express, who was nearly burned to death with her three children, when their house was fired twice in the early evening during the last month, was again the victim of adventure Monday night. This morning also evidences of an attempt to burn the Beck house were found.

Mrs. Beck says that some send three carbolic acid on her Monday night. The affair occurred just after the Halloween parade when the police lights were thrown on and Chief McCudden was called to the home of Mrs. Beck's mother, Mrs. Henrietta Snam, on Jennings avenue. The chief was accompanied by Burgess R. Ellis.

Mrs. Beck was down street, she said, viewing the Halloween parade and went up to her mother's home, accompanied by her youngest child Raymond, shortly after 9 o'clock, after seeing the parade and attending a reception at the Lutheran church.

According to the story told Monday night Mrs. Beck was in an outhouse when the door was flung violently open, and someone with the exclamation "I'll get you yet," threw carbolic acid in her face. A couple of burns showed on the woman's face and arms, and the front of her dress was wet with the acid. It is said that her neck was burned most. The woman groped her way to the house and a telephone call was sent for the police.

A two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid was found, and also an open mouth fruit jar from which it is said the acid was thrown was discovered near a stable in that neighborhood.

When Charles Staam went over to the Beck house on Tuesday to feed the chickens he found something like a sweating compound, scattered over the back porch, and at the back door some burnt dung against the screen and burned matches between the door and the screen. A bottle that had apparently held machine oil was found on the porch.

The cellar window, recently barred up, had a bunch of paper saturated with some kind of oil stuck between the bars. In the soft mud near the window was seen the heel prints of what was evidently a woman's or a child's shoe. When young Staam saw the condition of things he notified the Chief of Police who went up and examined the place.

A Masquerade
Social at Dunbar

Special to The Courier.

DUNBAR, Nov. 1.—The masquerade social given in the basement of the Methodist Episcopal Church on Tuesday evening by the Gaudis Adult Class was a grand success. The basement of the church presented a most beautiful appearance. The electric lights were all shaded with pumpkin jack-o'-lanterns and presented a most weird appearance while the tables were dimly lighted by candles. The room was prettily decorated in corn fodder, pumpkins and autumn leaves. The ladies of the class were kept busy at the different tables serving the weird creatures and the delicacies of the evening.

A great sum was realized. The guests were distinguished as Southern, mammys, witches, nurses, Sisters of Charity, clowns, Dutch maidens, and disguised of almost every description. The most prominent figures seen were the Indian and Indian queen and Uncle Sam. The class after expenses were paid cleared about $50.

Coal Sale Confirmed.
Judge Dayton of the Federal Court in session at Wheeling, has just confirmed the sale of a large block of coal land in Mineral and Berkeley counties, involved in the case of the Deposit National Bank of Pittsburgh against the Sleepy Mountain Anthracite Company. Almost $250,000 is involved in the deal.

Alquire Inquest.
Coroner H. J. Bell of Dawson will conduct an inquest into the death of the late E. & O. Engineer A. G. Alquire (son-in-law of J. C. Hunker) tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at J. B. Sims' establishment on North Pittsburgh street.

Billy Kummer's Contract Comes

Billy Kummer, former captain and still the star forward of the Coker team, will be in line again this season. These gladsonic tidings were announced this afternoon by Manager M. A. Coffey, who had just received Kummer's signed contract. It was feared for a time that Kummer might be a hold-out, but the popular little player has accepted terms with the management. With Kummer's presence now assured Coker prospects look several gleams brighter than at any time heretofore, and all along them have been pretty good.

In the pick of condition, John F. Doherty, star guard of the Connellsville basketball team arrived here last night and for several hours held a regular reception at the Smith House, where he was greeted by old friends. "Pluggie" expressed pleasure over his return and predicted the Cokers will be in the running this year from start to finish.

Doherty believes the Cokers have secured a star in Cunningham, whom he thinks would make a center good enough for any team. Today Duggs and Egoff are expected from Reading and Manager M. A. Coffey stated this morning that by Friday all the players would be on hand.

The tickets for the season have arrived and F. R. Graham and J. L. Schick are making arrangements for their sale.

Doherty has been playing in the New York State League. He says the other night in Troy the teams played to a paid admission of 3,120. Basketball is played in the armories in the State League and dancing always follows the game.

Birthday Party.
About 25 guests were present at a surprise party tendered Mrs. R. G. Graham at her home on Patterson avenue Monday evening in honor of her birthday anniversary. The guests included members of the G. I. A. to the H. of L. E., of which auxiliary Mrs. Graham is a member. The evening was pleasantly spent at various amusements and at a late hour lunch was served by the ladies who arranged the surprise. Mrs. Graham received several pieces of cut glass.

Make Your Cut Glass Sparkle.
Soap leaves a greasy film on glass which is hard to remove; the following method of washing will, however, make glass crystal clear:
Take a wooden tub, or pad the metal sink with soft glass linen towels or any soft piece of cloth. Wash the glass in warm suds, made by dissolving a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder in a pan of hot water; use a soft brush to clean surface, then rinse in water of the same temperature. After the glass has been carefully dried on glass linen, use a camel's hair brush to polish the cut surface.

Interval Dancing Academy will hold its regular class on Wednesday evening in the Armory. The Cuban waltz has been taken up and has proven popular. A late intermission will be introduced that evening and a buffet luncheon will be served. Class 3 to 9. Seated 5 to 12. Kiefer's full orchestra.

Guests of Mrs. Cochran.
Mrs. J. W. Knollton, Misses Rilla Callender and Hesse Liler, Messrs. Clyde Kinsey, Mr. Hupp and Lucien Smith of Morgantown were guests of Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran of Dawson on Monday night. The trip was made in automobiles.

Quiet Wedding.
James Shuman Huey and Miss Theresa M. Steindler, both of Connellsville were married this morning at the Immaculate Conception church by Rev. Father J. T. Burns.

Robinson, who will try their luck in the vicinity of Confluence. Clyde Trout and Harry Hough of Scottsdale, will hunt near Rockwood.

Those who left this morning were David Long, who expects to hunt near Indian Creek. William Fretts will join Hough and Trout at Rockwood. Albert Sileo also expects to stop off at Rockwood. L. W. B. Rice and D. D. Fretts are over in Westmoreland county. E. N. Stahl, "Doc" Jones and Sam King were among the hunters who left on U. & O. train No. 48 for the mountains.

Cannot Find Woman Seeking Charity

Rev. J. L. Prouditt, chairman of the Charity Committee of the Chamber of Commerce this morning stated that information has reached him that a woman giving the name of Mrs. Mary Conway and her address as No. 400 Highland avenue, is begging for a family named Burk at Morgan station. Rev. Prouditt said that he could find no No. 400 Highland avenue nor did the neighbors in that vicinity know of any Mary Conway. Further Rev. Prouditt says some months ago he investigated the troubles of the Burk family at Morgan, found they do not have seven children, as represented, and that both the father and mother are living and apparently able to support their youngsters, if they so desire. The woman applied to a local merchant for aid yesterday and the matter was referred to Rev. Prouditt for investigation.

QUEER MONEY.

Leather, Tin, Wood, Stone and Bronze Have Been Used as a Medium of Exchange.

Pretty nearly everything, in the shape of lasting material has been used as the medium of trade for as long as money. Leather, tin, bronze, the hard bark of trees, even the stones of the field, have served at one time or another as money, but nothing else the mind of man ever conceived has proved so simple, useful and safe as a medium of exchange as a check on a good bank. Nine-tenths of the world's business is transacted by check, because time has amply proved that it is the best way. The First National, the oldest and strongest national bank in Connellsville, cordially invites your checking accounts, no matter how small.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs, and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle wrapper, and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeits as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

PORTER REUNION AT ALVERTON

Family Gather at Home of
Mr. and Mrs. C. L.
Bair.

VISITING FROM SYDNEY, IOWA

Mrs. Margaret P. Caldwell is Guest of Home Folks After an Absence of 11
Years—in Nature of a Farewell Dinner.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTSVILLE, Nov. 1.—A very enjoyable reunion of the S. S. Porter family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bair at Alverton on Sunday. Mrs. Mary Ann Porter, widow of the late Samuel S. Porter, went up from home at Scottsville, and spent on Saturday and Sunday. The guest of honor was a daughter, Margaret P., wife of Rev. Frank Caldwell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Sydney, Iowa. Mrs. Caldwell has been visiting relatives here for a short time after an absence of 11 years from Pennsylvania. She expected to leave yesterday for her home, accompanied by Mrs. William Porter, of the same town, who has been visiting relatives here and in Irwin and Pittsburgh.

The dinner was served at noon, and the house was beautifully decorated in chrysanthemums. The dining table had a large centerpiece of yellow chrysanthemums, while the house decorations were in pink and white chrysanthemums. Among those who enjoyed the beautiful repast were Mrs. S. S. Porter, and the following children, Mrs. E. Porter and wife and children, Gladys, Mary and S. E. Junior, of Dawson; Samuel E. Porter and wife and son, Orla, of Vanderbolt; Alcind, and husband John Kellner, of Scottsville; Mrs. Margaret Caldwell, Hettie, and husband, C. L. Bair and children, Porter, Glenn, Margaret and D. R.; Miss Nellie Smith, an adopted daughter of a Porter family. Following the dinner there was a family picture taken and the afternoon was spent in pleasant reminiscence. Glenn Bair will accompany his aunt to Booneville, Missouri, where he will spend the winter with his uncle, John Bair.

CASCARETS FOR A SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Gently But Thoroughly Cleanse and Regulate Your Stomach, Liver and Bowels While You Sleep.

"That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases, that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any. Try Cascarets; they cure indigestion, because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too."

AT THE THEATRE.

THE SOISSON.

The Keyes Sisters Nov. 6.
Among the plays to be presented by the Keyes Sisters next week at the Soisson theatre is "Silver Threads Among the Gold," a beautiful story written around the famous song of that title. It is one of the prettiest stories of its kind ever written and has had a long New York run at the Murray Hill theatre. During the action of the play the song of "Silver Threads Among the Gold" will be sung by Miss Dot Keyes. The play contains an abundance of good wholesome comedy and while the first act takes place in the far west, the play is not a western melodrama. The Keyes Sisters will open with "The Pride of the Prairie" which is a cleverly written comedy drama, full of excellent and plenty of clean comedy and laughable situations. The prices for this attraction will remain the same, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Tona Vita Will Bring Back Health

The rush and hustle of American life is a constant strain on both mind and body. Gradually the human machine wears out under this unnatural strain and nervous debility results. Statistics show that half the people of the United States are in a run-down, nervous condition.

A man or woman in this condition can get little happiness or success out of life. They feel tired all the time, have no energy or ambition and are gloomy, timid and despondent. They do not sleep well or eat well or feel well and life instead of being a pleasure seems more like a burden.

Are you one of these half sick, listless, nervous people? If you are you know that there is a tonic now being sold that has brought back the old energy and pleasure in life to thousands who have tried it. The name of the tonic is Tona Vita. It is being introduced in this country by a number of physicians. It has been pronounced the greatest medicine ever before sold to the public. In each city there is an agent for Tona Vita who will refund the purchase price if the tonic fails to give you complete and entire satisfaction. Let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your strength and vitality. You will be astonished how quickly it acts. The very first dose will convince you what a great medicine it is.

Lee's Rhubarb Laxative is used as an assistant to Tona Vita in cases of chronic constipation. It is a family medicine pleasant to the taste, containing the splendid laxative qualities of rhubarb. Ask your physician about rhubarb and see if he does not tell you it is the best possible laxative for children.

A. A. Clarke has the agency for these two great medicines in Connelville, Pa.

Wrap of Black and White Caracal.
Not every woman would like to pay the price demanded for a garment as eccentric and bizarre as this striking wrap of black and white caracal, but the wrap, a French creation, is exceedingly chic in its unusual design.

A BLACK AND WHITE FUR COAT.

The black fur is matted against the white with a feathery edge of braids, and the white light on the turban also lightens the rather severe effect of the black and white contrast. The huge baglike muff is a very smart feature of the costume.

Is Miss Helen Taft Engaged?
Few girls have ever been more fated in their first season in society than Miss Helen Taft. Scarcely a night since the afternoon of Dec. 1, when she was formally presented to society, has Miss Taft been free. The most elaborate balls and receptions have been given by ambitious and admiring friends in her honor. No White House debutante has ever been the recipient of more attention, despite the fact that she was not twenty years old until August.

Since her debut she has been more in the forefront of society than her mother, who, of course, is the first lady of the land. And recently a diamond solitaire which sparkles on the third finger of her left hand has aroused much curiosity.

If it is an engagement ring there are likely to be many wounded hearts among the young fellows of the diplomatic corps, for Miss Taft is tremendously popular. She is an excellent type of the attractive, up to date American girl. Slightly more than five feet eight inches in height, with clear blue eyes and thick hair of a luxurious golden brown, she is easily the most popular girl in Washington society.

"Good luck" results from well directed efforts to succeed.

OWENSDALE.

Special to The Courier.

OWENSDALE, Nov. 30.—The recent death of William Jones, of Dry Hill, closed the portals of the life of one of the few remaining pioneers of the Western railway. Mr. Jones had lived all his life on Dry Hill and was one of the most widely known men in this section. He was a man of quick insight, quick intuition and warm and eager sensibilities, justly making allowances for differences in environment, training, motive and aim, as necessary to one who would unite containing human forces on a common plan; nature and open and frank, a man whose personality inspired and invited confidence. He was always Billy Jones, a progressive citizen and an untiring worker for the better cause.

Now that the season for snake stories has come to a close, so the miscreant started to open a new season of sensational stories by almost immediately taking Bob Kildie's money in an effort to abscond with Bob's price tag. The miscreant saved a heavy tail lock almost in time and then became preoccupied at his slow progress and started to demolish the money and after all his trouble was over he found that the dog had been locked up in the cellar for the night. The affair occurred Saturday night.

Miss Melburne Marchand of Scottsville, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Marchand here over Sunday.

Mrs. Thomas O'Donnell and Mrs. Charles Kildie were here over Sunday, visiting relatives here over Sunday.

Mrs. William Martin, Jr., was shopping at Scottsville and Miss Lint of South Connelville, were guests of Miss Ruth Murray over Sunday.

Charles Carlson and R. Amos of Scottsville, spent a few hours here Sunday.

Miss Annie Robinson of Dry Hill, was visiting relatives here over Sunday.

Mrs. John Holm and sister, Miss Ethel, accompanied by their father, George DeWalt, were Scottsville callers Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dull spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Laing.

Woman's World

Mrs. Fred Sutton, Pioneer Woman of Oklahoma.

MRS. FRED SUTTON.

At the head of the Oklahoma society entitled "The Women of '99" stands its president, Mrs. Fred Sutton, a charming woman of great personal magnetism and executive ability.

Mrs. Sutton has perhaps done more for the uplift of the city of Oklahoma than any one of its citizens. In fact, she has grown up with the town, having been mistress of the "little school-house" when the new big city was a mere struggling settlement.

Exchange very soon her duties of schoolteacher for the controversial role she still kept up her interest in civic affairs and today is one of the most popular women in Oklahoma.

EXHIBITION OF FIRST AID WORK

President Taft Witness of National Mine Safety
Demonstration.

HE SEES CREWS AT WORK

Tests Made at Forbes Field on Tuesday Show That Coal Dust is Not Dangerous With a Safe Explosive. President is Present.

Forbes field rocked under a concussion shortly after 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning, when a huge steel cylinder near the flagpole belched great tongues of smoke and flame. One hundred yards away, leaning over a seat in the front of the grandstand, sat President Taft, his famous smile gone and a look of intense seriousness in its stead, gazing with thousands of others at a scene which told graphically if incompletely the horrors of a coal mine explosion.

A moment later squads of miners, equipped with oxygen tanks and other safety devices, dashed into the smoking mouth of the big gallery, and emerged bearing make-believe victims of the explosion. It was the concluding act in what was probably the most remarkable drama of its kind ever staged in America. A majority of the throng that watched the demonstration had a first glimpse of the dangers of a coal miner's life.

Earlier in the day President Taft's visage had beamed with good nature, but not once during the demonstration at Forbes field did his countenance lighted with a smile. Grave and silent, he watched every exhibition the miners gave, with Joseph A. Holmes, director of the United States Bureau of Mines, at his side to explain the technical features of the demonstration. "Men who risk their lives in a hell like that black tube" was the way the President tersely summed up his appreciation of the dangers encountered by miners when he made a speech at the conclusion of the program.

A notable party saw the mine safety demonstration, which was held under the auspices of the United States Bureau of Mines, the American National Red Cross Society and the Pittsburgh Coal Operators' Association. In the presidential group, which occupied seats in the left wing of the grandstand, between third base and home plate, in the parlance of the baseball game, were United States Senator George F. Oliver, Congressman James Francis Burke, John D. Rockefeller, A. J. Barclay and A. J. Porter, Governor John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania; Governor William B. Glasscock of West Virginia; Secretary Walter L. Fisher, of the Department of the Interior; Director Holmes, of the Bureau of Mines; Miss Mabel Boardman, of the Red Cross Society; Mayor William A. Magee, C. D. Hillis, secretary to the President; Archibald Butt, military aid to the President; William H. Stevenson, President of the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania; Congressman and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth were also in the grandstand.

Besides the presidential party there were hundreds of mine operators and officials from all over the United States, mine workers from several States and a big crowd of spectators in the grandstand, totalling about 10,000. The threatening weather kept many away, as rain fell during part of the demonstration and the skies were overcast all morning. In the extreme right end of the grandstand sat a howling bunch of Tech rooters, while above President Taft's head was another equally demonstrative crowd of Pitt students. Both gave yells for Taft. Two bands added to the din.

President Taft, escorted by a reception committee that had met him at Shady side station, entered the grandstand shortly after 9 o'clock. The appearance of a dozen or more high silk hats coming up the interior approach into the grandstand was the signal for cheers and a rising salute to the President and his party. The uproar lasted several minutes.

Everything had been made ready for the demonstration and the various events on the program were carried out on the second and without a hitch, under the management of J. W. Paul, manager of field exhibitions; Dr. M. J. Shields, manager of the first aid events; and Clarence Hall, manager of the explosion. Francis Fehner was chief marshal.

Forbes field was soggy, and while rain fell intermittently, the downpour was not heavy enough to inconvenience the miners, who displayed as much gloom as the Pirates in mid-season. There were 40 squads on the field, each designated by a number, and ranged about in front of the grandstand. The line reached from one end to the other. Nine States were represented by teams, as follows: Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Maryland, Washington, Illinois, Kentucky, Alabama and New Mexico.

Shortly after the presidential party took seats the score board in the center field chronicled the initial event of the first aid exhibition, while busy hinged representatives of the Bureau of Mines megaphoned the news to the crowd in the grandstand. The moving picture men hurried away from their cranking operations in front of the President's party and aimed their machines at the miners.

In less time than it takes to tell it, half of the squads on the field rushed up to men who were lying on pieces of tarpaulin in the pose of "victims." In a jiffy each of the "victims" was bound, bandaged and tied in a thoroughly scientific manner, according to the nature of the injury supposed to be treated. There were one-man events, two-man events and team exhibitions, all demonstrating the high degree of skill the members of the squads had acquired. There were 10 events.

In one event the "victim" would have a wound on the head; again a fractured jaw, a dislocated shoulder or a broken leg. Still other cases were those of men suffering from burns on the face and neck, a broken back or a dislocated hip. Many times the big audience applauded vigorously the exhibition of the miners. The uniformed teams of workers seemed to glory in their dexterity and now and then would applaud another team which showed extraordinary skill.

At the conclusion of the first aid exhibitions the squads retired from the field and stood in a line along the front of the grandstand while the scene of the demonstration was shifted to the explosion gallery at the other end of the field. The gallery was a cylindrical tube of steel, 133 feet long, with an internal diameter of 5 feet 4 inches. In the gallery was placed 135 pounds of fine coal dust from the Pittsburgh seam, distributed uniformly throughout, and 20 pounds on a wooden bench, near the mouth, making a total of 155 pounds of dust.

Into this dust a permissible explosive was fired, being equal in disruptive force to one-half pound of 40 per cent. ultra-glycerine. There was a loud report, but the coal dust did not ignite. This was according to the plan of the demonstrators, the purpose of the experiment being to show the safety of using permissible explosives in coal mines.

Next came a mine gas test. A big glass box, near the grandstand, was used for this demonstration. G. A. Burrell, a chemist of the Bureau of Mines, entered the transparent box with a wire cage, containing three canary birds. Carbon monoxide, a poisonous gas, common in coal mines, was released in the box. The birds were overcome by the gas in three minutes and fell limp to the bottom of the cage. They were then taken out and placed in oxygen tanks, where they soon revived.

The demonstrator remained in the box eight minutes and emerged feeling none the worse. He said he could have stayed inside half an hour with no other ill effects than a headache. The exhibition was to show the use of birds in detecting dangerous gases in mines. The little songsters are acutely sensitive to the gas and when they show signs of distress the miners may know that it is time to retreat.

The spectacular feature of the program was saved to the last. To illustrate the danger of using black powder, a charge of the powder was placed in the gallery along with 163 pounds of coal dust. At the proper moment President Taft touched an electric button at his elbow that ignited the powder. A terrific explosion followed, the powder having set off the coal dust. Volumes of smoke poured out both ends of the big tube and through holes in the top.

Then a party of mine foremen trotted out to the fiery monster and disappeared in its bowels. Each had an artificial breathing device strapped on his shoulder by which he carried a tank of oxygen liquid air or air under pressure with which to breathe in the dense fumes of smoke and gas inside the tube. The party came out a moment later carrying on a stretcher a supposed victim of the explosion. Several trips were made into the gallery.

An ambulance bore the supposed victim to a spot near the grandstand where first aid members treated the men according to their injuries. The experiment illustrated the treatment of miners suffering from fire damp, after-damp and burns.

When the final demonstration was over, President Taft arose, and, accompanied by Governor Tener, Secretary Fisher, Miss Boardman and several others, walked to a platform which had been erected in front of the center of the grandstand. Here speeches were made by the President and the others mentioned.

President Taft's voice resounded through the grandstand and the echoes came back on the field. He spoke feelingly of the demonstration given by the miners and of the importance of education in rescue work. When the speechmaking was over the squads of miners who had taken part in the exhibition marched past the stand. Each first aid team was presented with a souvenir first aid box and badges were given the individual members.

BASKETBALL NOTES

That was a very satisfactory meeting in Pittsburgh Monday night, all things considered. At last the Charleroi management has made its appearance, being represented by Captain Jack Adams, and reports that prospects are satisfactory in the league city. Once they get going in Charleroi they will never stop, and just between ourselves it ought to be the best paying town in the circuit if managed right.

The selection of Jack Adams to manage the Charleroi is a happy one. Adams is popular with the players, is a good manager himself, and with the right kind of material should make some money. Olive J. Adams is a chance and will come near making that team somewhere at the top.

It is to be hoped that the league directors gave President Joe Leithold a hint to get busy and stay on the job. Leithold should have had the circuit fixed up a month ago or shown, the reason why. As it is it looks as if the noble president had been looking at the semaphores.

Here's hoping Steve White will show them all that he can "come back." Steve was badly treated in Tintown last season and after reporting to Connellsville he carried himself above reproach. The discouragement handed him the first few weeks of the season took the ginger out of the former star, however, and the fact that the Cokers were well fortified did not give him an opportunity to show his worth.

Way back in the summer Coker fans in Philadelphia saw White and reported that he was in excellent condition. The report that he is under weight now is encouraging for Steve's trouble last year came from a superabundance of overwork. One thing sure—Steve White can shoot fouls, and the Cokers may need him for that before the season is over.

Now comes the disquieting report that Donohue may not remain in the east. Past experiences of the Cokers with Donohue haven't been any too satisfactory and the big fellow has before now gone back on his promises to report to Connellsville. The management fully expects Donohue to jump center in the opening game but if he doesn't come, Cavanaugh will get the job.

This lanky, grunting Cavanaugh, with his carrot comb, isn't a world beater when it comes to scoring, but he jumped center pretty well for Homestead. Cavanaugh isn't the man who would be picked to jump for a pennant winning aggregation, probably, but he is a hard, street worker, willing at all times to heed advice and obey orders, and demands respect for those qualities. On the Homestead team last year the ghost failed to walk with accustomed regularity and this took ginger out of the entire outfit. With different evens this year Cavanaugh may find some of the dope sniffs.

Regarding Billy Kummer the management maintains an air of reserve in assuring the fans that he will be in line. The chances are that Billy will report. There is a difference of $25 between Kummer and Connellsville. It is the extra $25 Billy received for being captain of the team. The management feels that Kummer should not expect to receive that additional remuneration now that he has been relieved of the cares of the captaincy. Kummer will probably head the call of the cage and take the same view of the matter by the time the whistle blows. Kummer's loss would be somewhat of a blow to the Cokers, but in this one particular instance the man-

Headache? It's Your Liver

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When Liver Tonic is Needed.

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute For Calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the one substitute for dangerous calomel. They do all of calomel's work without any of its bad after effects.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drug; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

The olive oil in Olive Tablets is a natural laxative as well as a healing, soothing and strengthening ingredient.

Dr. Edwards' calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

All druggists sell Olive Tablets in neat, pocket packages. 15 tablets for 10c; 45 tablets for 25c.

agement seems justified in its stand regarding that $25 per month.

"Pluggers" Doherty's hint to the management that he would be in line this year was characteristic of himself. "Lost my contract—here's the shoe of my shirt," is all he said, but it was enough to assure "Pluggers" presence, and his arrival last night in the vanguard of all the players was not surprising.

Big Bill Herron expects to cut a big figure in the contests with Uniontown. Herron claims to have had O'Donnell's number in a manner so pronounced that when McKeesport played Homestead Swenson was usually put in at forward. If Big Bill will kindly curb that beastly habit of trying to shoot baskets the entire length of the cage he ought to be popular with the fans here.

Now it is reported Eddie Forat is in the group of that green-eyed monster, jealousy, because he was not selected to lead the Charleroi team. There are even whispers that Forat is the one who "knocked" the game to Magic City fans. Forat should recognize the fact such a disturbing element respecting teamwork as he has shown himself during the past season or two is a mighty poor qualification for leadership. To speak frankly, Charleroi will show more under Adams than Forat.

Johnstown is expecting big things of Wohlfarth and Steele, the former Homestead players. Both are class scorers. Fogarty is hanging on to that gentleman named Noll who made several varieties of monkeys out of one Big John Ahorn several times last season.

Kid Dark is giving close attention to the construction of the cage on the floor here. He wants it arranged so a player can dribble right into the wire without running chances of serious injury. The Kid expects to be better than ever this season, which is saying a good bit.

The Coker team has been remarkably free from "hustlers" and Captain Dark will again set them a good example. The Kid doesn't drink or smoke, which largely accounts for his superb physical makeup.

The seats have arrived and will be carried to the hall tomorrow. It was feared there might be a delay in transit, but the entire shipment arrived yesterday. The number plates are yet to come but there is no question about them getting here before the season opens. That wouldn't interfere with things anyway. People don't have to sit on the number plates.

TWIN ILLS

Stomach Trouble and Bad Health. How to Escape Them.

Stomach trouble and rundown system go together, usually. If you can get the system built up, the stomach symptoms disappear.

W. H. McAdams, Birmingham, Ala., says: "I had suffered from stomach trouble for years but found nothing that would give more than temporary relief. My druggist said Vinol was the best thing for me to use. It gave me immediately relief, improved my appetite and digestion and now I feel that I am all through with my stomach trouble."

We firmly believe that all forms of stomach trouble due to impaired general health can be permanently cured by the use of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil. Its remarkable tonic and strengthening effects are exactly what guarantee that Vinol will do all that we claim for it and give back your money if it doesn't.

HANDS WOULD CRACK OPEN AND BLEED

Blisters Formed, Skin Scaled Off, and Flesh Burned and Itched Dreadfully. Healed by Less Than One Cake of Cuticura Soap and One Box of Cuticura Ointment.

"About two months ago my hands started to crack open and bleed, the skin would scale off, and the good flesh would burn and scale off. I was so afraid I would have to give up my employment, I consulted my doctor, and he said he didn't think it would amount to anything. But it kept getting worse. One day I saw a piece in one of the papers about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I had the same trouble with my hands. She had used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and was cured. I decided to try them, and my hands were all healed before I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I am truly thankful for the good results from the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, for thanks to them I was cured, and did not have to lose a day from work. I have had, up to the skin trouble." (Signed) Mrs. Mary E. Breg, 2522 Brown Street, Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 12, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are for sale everywhere, but those who wish to try them without charge may do so by sending to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 6A, Boston, for a liberal sample of each, post-free, together with 22-p. book on the skin and scalp.
